Bonner Wins Mayor Race

Students Take Over Village Offices Friday

John Bonner defeated his three opponents in the race for Village President last Tuesday at the High School, winning the right to be "His Honor" for a one-day term of office.

Antioch Community High School students will take over as village officials this Friday, May 1. The newly-elected officials will hold a preliminary meeting Thursday, April 30, at 3:30 p.m. Proceedings at this meeting will be taped.

Other village officials elected in Tuesday's balloting at the school were Gary Kappel, Fire Chief; Norbert Wolter, Superintendent of Public Works; Leone Nelson, Village Clerk; Carmen Manzardo, Police Chief, and Brad Brenna, treasurer.

Students campaigned for the election, with posters and banners urging their fellow students to vote for them for various reasons. Conforming strictly to regular election rules, all campaign banners were removed on election day.

Voting booths were set up in a classroom, and students voted between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. last Tuesday. Election officers served for one-hour periods, giving eight groups experience in handling the formalities of registering, giving out ballots, etc.

A committee of James Lindley, Suraya Brook, Douglas Feller and Linda Stahl supervised the election and set up the mechanics of voting. They were assisted by Mrs. Tulumello.

John Bonner, who won the race for village president, was one of the candidates interviewed on election day. Jim Barnstable was his campaign manager. John said he was running on the Bull Moose party ticket. He seemed to have some trouble deciding just what his platform was, but promised better garbage pick-up if elected.

One of the candidates remarked that it was pretty hard to campaign on any definite issues and it had to be pretty much a campaign on the candidate's personality.

Brad Brenna, successful candidate for treasurer, promised lower taxes and shorter school hours. He also was running on the Bull Moose ticket, with Ron Heister as campaign manager. His slogan, "Vote small—vote Brad." (Brad's about 5 ft. 4 in.)

One of his unsuccessful opponents for the office of treasurer was Lonn Ipsen. His slogan, "Vote big—vote Ipsen." Lonn said he was running for office because he'd like to find out how the village government worked. He promised tighter control of village money, and cited one year's experience as treasurer of the Student Council among his qualifications.

Norbert Wolter, who defeated Julie Nissen by one vote for Superintendent of

The Mental Health Ball will climax Mental Health Week activities. Mrs. Richard Ripley, Antioch, is chairman of the ball. Dancing will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets are on sale throughout the county, and may be bought from Lake County Mental Health Board members, from the Mental Health Clinic in Waukegan, and at the door.

Public Works, was also on the Bull Moose slate. He promised better roads and campaigned with the slogan, "Vote for the Flamingo." Campaign Manager, Jerry Hagen.

Ken Larson was an unsuccessful candidate for Police Chief on the Bull Moose ticket. He declared himself for better law enforcement and better police protection. His campaign manager was Rick Mason.

Maureen Carlucci, an unsuccessful candidate for treasurer, thought the village money was not being spent for the real needs and stressed watching money expenditures.

John (D) Horton, defeated for Public Works Superintendent, was campaigning on a platform of better snow removal, good drinking water and promised to clean up Sequoia Creek. His slogan, "Vote 'D' Right Way."

After serving their day in office, the student officials will attend next Tuesday's village board meeting and report to the board.

four years. He was assigned to the Uniform Division and performed patrol and traffic enforcement duty. In the most recent assignment, he operated the radar equipment which has been added to the Sheriff's office equipment to implement traffic law enforcement.

Sheriff Larson said he accepted Deputy Heick's resignation reluctantly. He considers him an outstanding police officer, one who recognizes his job as a public trust and police work as a profession.

Heick and his wife, Jean, and four children live at Rt. 4, Box 508, in Antioch.

A. G. S. Band Lauded At State Contest

The Antioch Grade School Band, under the direction of George Olisar, took another 1st Division Rating at the State Contest. This makes it 8 years in succession for our grade school band.

The contest was held at the Ridgwood High School in Norridge, Ill. The band went by school bus and was accompanied by about 30 band parents.

The bands at the contest are judged by three adjudicators and the Antioch band received such comments as: "a fine band, well trained, and well prepared"; "the performance was a well-worked, thoroughly practiced, and studied endeavor"; "a job to be proud of—tough numbers well played."

The solos and ensembles who won at the district contest also competed for State honors. Jeanine Dow, bassoon soloist, won a 1st place. Shanda Jarvis, John Liddle, and Glen Erickson placed 2nd with solos. Ensembles which received a 1st were Flute Duet, with Donna Garrison and Kathy Mayerle; Flute Duet, with Dawn Tinker and Teresa Kemmerer; Clarinet Duet with Edith Bruski, and Cheryl Reckers; Brass Quintet with Glen Erickson, Bill Dow, Mark Roberson, Bruce Volting and Roger Sorenson; Ensembles receiving second place were Flute Trio with Josephine Olisar, Kathy Mayerle, Donna Garrison; Clarinet Quartet with Joyce Herman, Eusan Masek, Carol Silanoff and Edith Bruski.

After the contest the band members were treated by the Band Parents Association to a banquet which was held at Lorenz' Smart Country House. At the banquet the 8th Graders were presented with band graduation pins as a token of appreciation for their efforts and cooperation during their years with the band.

The grade school band has an active schedule for the rest of the year. They are now preparing for the Memorial Day Parade, Graduation, and of course will have a real treat when they go down to Springfield to play for Governor Kerner. This concert for the governor will be on June 3rd with a side trip to New Salem State Park on June 2.

Village Board Ends Fiscal Year, Grants Pay Raises

Folk Musical At High School Tells of Eternal Triangle

Saturday, May 2, at 8:00 p.m. Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley" will be presented at Antioch High School by the Senior Choir. The evening will be a Spring Choral Concert with the Senior Choir, Girls Glee Club, and Swing Choir participating. The main feature will be the presentation of this short musical of Kurt Weill's, composer of "Mack the Knife" and "September Song."

"Down in the Valley" with music by Weill and lyrics by Arnold Sundgaard was originally written for the school of Music of Indiana University and presented there in 1948. Within a month the University of Michigan repeated its presentation and had it broadcast over the NBC network. After that, the folk opera was presented by hundreds of organizations throughout the country, amateur and professional. It was televised and recorded. There is no doubt to the reason for its popularity as a school presentation. It is a charming and simple musical, based on five American folk songs.

The tale is equally simple, summarized by the "Leader" (Bill Serhson) in the following words sung at the opening of the work: "I'll sing of Brack Weaver, who died on the gallows one morning in May, he died for the love of sweet Jennie Parsons, he died for the slaying of Thomas Bouche."

The story is then told in a series of flashbacks. Sentenced to death for the murder of Bouche, Brack Weaver (Lloyd Pedersen) feels he cannot face the gallows without seeing his beloved Jennie (Susan Bushnell) once more. He makes a break, and finds his loved one sitting on a porch. With her he recalls how they met and fell in love, how the villain, Thomas Bouche (John D. Horton) tried to force his attentions on Jennie; how at a square dance, he killed Bouche in a brawl. Convinced that Jennie still loves him, Brack can face his doom. He gives himself up to the posse that has come to hunt him.

Aside from this 45 minute presentation each choir will present two selections. Also featured will be a piano duo, Miss Della Mae Tronchuk, choral director, and Cheryl Folbrick, graduating accompanist, will play Stravinsky's "Danse Russe." A two piano score has been rented from G. Schirmer, New York to accompany the major presentation. Miss Tronchuk and Cheryl Folbrick will accompany "Down in the Valley."

Tickets for the musical evening may be purchased at the door.

The Village Board, ending its fiscal year on April 30, paid bills, issued liquor licenses, and discussed some of the matters they felt should receive the attention of the Village Board in the next year at the board meeting Tuesday night, April 28.

A license to sell package liquors was issued to Morris and Ruth Pickus; a Class G package beer license issued to the JGA, $300.00 license fee; a Class A tavern license to Cole's Tavern, $500.00 fee; The Corners, a Class A tavern license, with partial payment of $250, with the provision that the balance be paid by Sept. 1; Ralph Thompson's tavern, Class A tavern license for partial payment of $250, same provision; Weasel's Lounge, Class A tavern license, $250 paid and same provision; Casey's Tap, Class A tavern, $250 fee, same provision; Jewel Tea Store, license to sell packaged beer; Loyal Order of Moose, Class A tavern license, $75.00 license fee.

The finance committee recommended, and the board approved, a 2% across-the-board raise in pay for all village employees.

The board has been considering various estimates on insurance for all village owned property. Ray Toft pointed out that the village has spent several thousand dollars yearly for insurance, and in all the years on record has never collected more than a few hundred dollars in claims. Attorney Ed Jacobs pointed out that many villages discontinued extensive insurance coverage for this reason, finding "self-insurance" more economical. In other words, the money saved on insurance would more than offset any claim against the village. The matter was deferred for study.

Victor Lubkeman asked and received permission to install water and sewer lines to his property on North Ave., contingent on permission from Mrs. Herman to tap into lines installed by her.

John Conville requested a building permit for two more buildings on Filwiber Court, to be issued to John Blackman and Robert Bemis. Mayor Cunningham objected that owners of property on the street should repair and blacktop the road, if permits were to be issued. He pointed out that Filwiber Court is not a dedicated street, and that ownership of the street itself is clouded. The matter was referred to the street committee. Mr. Conville said the three apartment houses would contain 17 units and would have off-the-street parking.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Little asked the board to take steps to repair damage done to their property when the sewer line was installed at Routes 21 and 173. Mr. Little said trees had been piled on property they used for a

Channel Lake Votes Saturday On School Tax Increase

For the second time in less than four months, voters of the Channel Lake School District will be asked this Saturday to approve a raise in the educational tax rate for their school.

The balloting on the referendum will be held at Channel Lake School from 12 noon to 7 p.m. on Saturday, May 2. Voters are being asked to raise the educational tax rate of the school from .71c to .91c per $100 of assessed valuation. The raise in the tax rate would raise taxes on property $2.00 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Under the old rate of taxation, the school has an income of about $35,000 a year. If the tax raise is approved, the income will be about $45,000 per year.

The school board has declared that they will be operating at a deficit before the end of the year. The deficit this year is expected to be between $1,000 and $2,000. The board will issue tax anticipation warrants to pay bills for the balance of the year. Board President Elmer Eberman has pointed out that these warrants, plus the interest on them, will have to be paid next year, which means a larger deficit in the 1964-65 school year.

The educational tax rate of the school has not been raised in at least the last 15 years, Mr. Eberman said.

Principal Howard Scott pointed out that many of the voters misunderstand the reason for the proposed tax raise. He said one taxpayer, at a recent PTA meeting at the school, said that he had been informed that the tax raise was for the purpose of establishing a music program at the school. Mr. Scott said, "This raise will not finance any 'frills'—it's necessary just to pay the operating costs of the school. If the referendum passes now, we will have a deficit of $4,000 to $5,000 to pay out of the increase of $10,000 a year, when we finally receive the extra money in the 1965-66 school year."

The school discontinued a program of one hour a week of vocal instruction about five years ago, Mr. Scott said. It is under continual pressure from the state to resume some such program, but at present is concerned only with meeting expenses.

F. William Kelly, Jr., Regional Supervisor, and James Flood, Asst. County Superintendent of Schools, recently visited the school for an inspection tour, and submitted the following recommendation to Sherwood Dees, the Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction:

1. Consideration should be given to the possibilities of annexation to the neighboring district.

2. A tax rate increase is imperative in this district. With a limited assessed valuation per pupil it will be a constant strain on the school district to provide the necessary funds to run an adequate educational program. The tax rate increase will meet the immediate demands put upon the district but the long range demand will require a much higher rate than is feasible in this district."

Channel Lake School has one of the lowest incomes from its educational rate in the area. Although Grass Lake School has the same tax rate, the district has an assessed valuation of $1½ million more than Channel Lake.

Kindergarten Class Registers Next Week

Kindergarten registration for the 1964-65 school year will take place at the Oakland Grade School, Loon Lake and Deep Lake Roads, during the week of May 4.

All children who will be five years old by December 1, 1964 are eligible for kindergarten. No child will be registered unless a birth certificate is presented to the school at the time of registration. A fee will be charged for each child registered.

Hours for registering will be daily from 10 to 12 in the morning and from 2 to 4 in the afternoon.

Scripts For Guys & Dolls Available

Kenneth Smouse has announced that the scripts and scores for "Guys and Dolls", the July production of the PM&L, have just arrived and may be read at the Antioch Township Library. They may not be removed from the library.

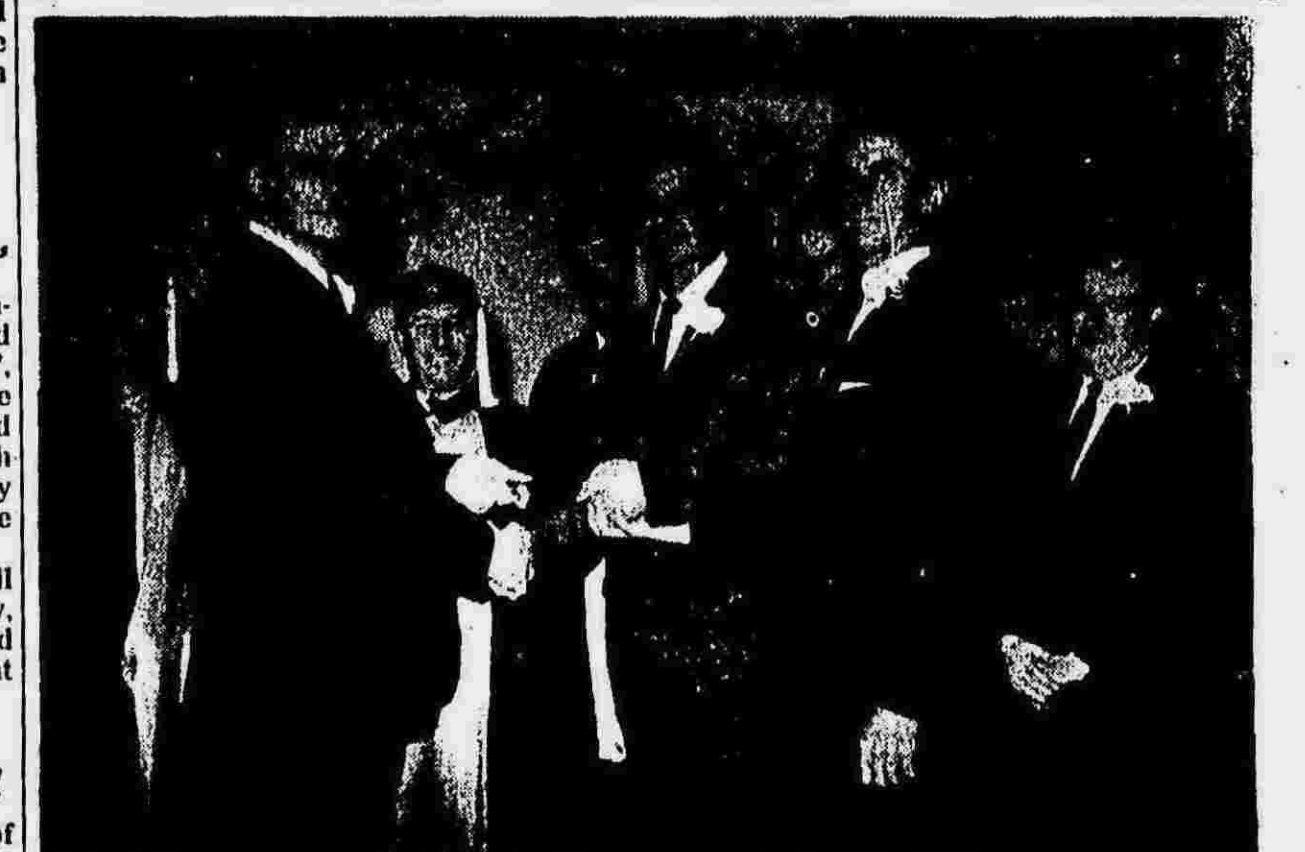

Tryouts for the play will be held Thursday and Friday, May 7 and 8, and Monday and Tuesday, May 11 and 12, at 8 p.m.

License Suspended

The office of Secretary of State William H. Chamberlain has announced the suspension of the driver's license of James R. Koch, Rt. 1, Box 145, Antioch, after three violations.

SHERIFF ROGER EBERMAN guards prisoners Wayne Sobczak and Lloyd Petersen in a scene from "Down in the Valley", a short musical of folk songs being presented at Antioch High School this week-end.

EDITORIAL

A Poor School — Can You Afford It?

Voters of the Channel Lake School District will again be asked to vote this Saturday, May 2, on a referendum asking for a raise in the educational tax rate.

Editorially, just about everything that can be said on the subject of voting and school taxes has been said. Voters have been reminded, pleaded with, and begged to vote. Most of them turn a deaf ear.

The people who are strongly against the raise in taxes will vote, no matter how inconvenient. A large number of retired people living in the district have been credited with defeating several school referendums. Of course, they couldn't. There aren't that many. It's not their vote that defeats the proposition, it's the many who want a better school but don't bother to go to the polls who actually defeat it.

Add to the retired people a fairly large number of parents who send their children to parochial school, and resent the additional expense, and you have a good-sized bloc of votes. Every voter who has any interest in seeing a good school in the neighborhood will have to get out and vote if the increase is to pass.

Do you doubt the need for more money? Consider a few of the facts (not the baseless rumors that are always peddled when a referendum such as this is presented to the voters.)

1. The school board is unanimously agreed that the school must have more money to operate. This is not a new board. Some of these same board members have served for years. They have spent your money carefully. Remember, they're asking you to vote to raise their taxes, too. They don't like to pay taxes any more than you do.

2. The school is operating on a smaller income than any other school in the area with a comparable number of pupils.

3. There has been no raise in the educational tax rate for at least fifteen years. Could you run your household on the same amount you spent fifteen years ago? Remember, a variety of supplies come out of the educational tax.

Your school is the most important single thing in your neighborhood. The value of your property rises and falls with the appearance and reputation of the local school. A good school denotes civic pride and a responsible, progressive community. A rundown, deteriorating school indicates a deteriorating community. A neglected school will produce an increasing number of irresponsible, lawless young adults, a larger crop of juvenile delinquents. Property owners really can't afford not to support a good school.

Voting will be from noon to 7 p.m. this Saturday, May 2. Any registered voter can vote. The board must abide by your decision—but give them the opinion of enough voters so that they know where they stand.

Hot! Hum! Are you still having as much trouble adjusting to these longed-for daylight hours as I am? 'Tis a most difficult thing for one who has the nocturnal prowess of a bat! Just as those radar equipped night-fliers, this writer does sonically better after the sun goes down. Now it's out, that's who I really am: that night-time Dolly with the hole in her stocking who dances by the light of the moon! Well, Hello, Dolly!

NOTES TO YOU: Seems that Main Street petrol depot is having troubles keeping filled up. Those wedding bells are still ringing around here, yep, our favorite "Gal Friday" Lil became Mrs. Birdsell a week ago. Well Howard, there's just one single left in the office. Keep your eyes open for another Main St. business that will shutter soon.

THE LATEST REPORT: How many of you dug right in and planted a tree last Friday? 'Twas Arbor Day, you know! How about that Harry m'boy. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kramer have purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson on Highland Ave. If you look very closely when you drive down Orchard St., you will see the first signs of progress on the proposed Shopping Center. Well Hello Dolly, it's so nice to see you back where you belong!

THE LAST DROP: If you are worried about the future generation, you couldn't have taken a tour of the corridors of A.C.H.S. this past week. Seems it is election time up there, and let this gall tell you, there are a few politicians that could learn some things about campaigning from those teenagers. Don't ever fear for a future Democracy that has the spirit, and keen interest in government displayed on every wall and window. Youth of Antioch, Annie's right proud of each and every one, win, lose or draw! Betty Shepard will soon attend a school at the University of Illinois to learn how to be a housemother? Oh, a campus one... speculations on who bought the Cosgrove building on Lake St. have been running muck, so we got our snoop nose to the ground, and came up with exactly nothing but a nostril full of dust. Hold on, tho' we may have something by next week, if they haven't moved the building.

SPEAKING TO YOU

By John Burlend
Director of Social Studies,
Rockford East High School

The situation on Cyprus is still critically grave. Someone has said that the world is at the mercy of a few hundred fanatical gunmen in that small unhappy island. Briefly, the Greek majority on the island want to deal with the Turkish minority in such a way that the centuries old blood feud will be permanently settled. That will require a little blood letting. Turkey, just 40 miles away, could not and would not sit quietly by while Turks were being massacred. Time and again, the Turkish fleet warned, threatened and maneuvered. If the Turks invade Cyprus, Greece would be drawn in. There would be fierce bloody war between two NATO members, and the western alliance would be badly battered. Only great restraint on the part of the two nations keeps us from a situation tailored for Soviet intervention.

In this situation the U. N. is the only force in the world that could take action. The Cypriots rejected the British, or the Commonwealth, or the U. S. intervention. They did not want anyone to interfere with their little one-sided war. Only the fact that the U. N. had world-wide prestige for being impartial and fair forced the reluctant Cypriots to agree to the U. N. police force. Even so, the U. N. troops are from time to time under fire from impatient gunmen.

If you will consider that no nation wanted to send troops to Cyprus, that there was nothing to gain for the nation, that it is always dangerous to get between two forces that are fighting, then this stands as a clear example of international responsibility. It is the same kind of service that the U. N. has offered in the Congo and on the Gaza Strip. None of the participating nations gained anything more than the police gain by standing between a rock throwing mud and its victims.

It is all the more surprising that the U. N. should be under such bitter attack in this country. Communist opposition I can understand. Repeatedly, the U. N. has thwarted their ambitions and intentions. The Soviet has used the veto more than 100 times to disrupt or to undercut the U. N. From the beginning in 1946 when the Soviets were forced to withdraw from Iran to the present Cyprus crisis, the Soviets have run afoul of the U. N. They have reason for their opposition.

The incredible ones are the American rightists who have formed a strange alliance with the Communists. I have before me a sample of their contributions: "Take a look at the actions of the U. N.; Korea, Katanga, murder, rape, mayhem." It sounds a little like Khrushchev denouncing the Chinese.

Let's keep a firm grip on reality. Every major nation in the western world supports U. N. policies, not every one of course, but a clear majority. Every small nation applies for membership with its first breath of independence. Do these nations support an organization with a record of "murder, rape, and mayhem"? This is not only nonsense; it is blatant, stupid nonsense.

To those who have been disturbed by these savage attacks on the U. N. the following questions might be of some service:

Who would benefit if Greece and Turkey were drawn into a war over the killings on Cyprus: the Turks? The Greeks? The Soviets? Whom would you propose to act as the police if there were no U. N.?

What of the Congo? Despite the shrill cries of the right wing against U. N. action in the Congo, and despite the fantastic canonization of that curious crusader, Moise Tschombe, the fact is that the Congo is better off than it would have been if Katanga province had been torn off as an independent state. The Belgian government said officially, July 11, 1960, "Belgium is opposed to an independent Katanga for many reasons. . . . Long term secession would compromise the economic vitality of the rest of the Congo which would fall a prey to Communism."

Who would benefit from chaos in the Congo? The Congolese? The Belgians? The Soviet Union?

The U. N. is doing a job in Cyprus, a nasty unpleasant job, that is a service to the civilized world. Civilized men will recognize its shortcomings but give credit to its accomplishments. You are at liberty to apply any name you like to the shrill snipers who maintain a constant barrage against the U. N. on the theory that this hurts Communism.

PUBLIC SERVANTS

The word came to us from a reliable source that some adults—not kids, please—can be pretty unreasonable—our source used the word dirty—in their talk about teachers. Our source noted this trend in recent months.

Now we all know that self criticism is the best kind. It keeps small faults from becoming big ones. Chicago, for example, has not been self-critical enough. The Daily News stories about physical mistreatment of public school teachers there by adults and hoodlums gives any decent-minded person a shudder.

Persons getting their pay from the public trough need not be coddled. But they ARE entitled to decent human dignity. The rest of us expect it in our own work. Police officers, and school teachers and their like are, first of all, human beings like ourselves. They too have problems and want to do a good job. They are entitled to at least a constructive climate from the rest of us to pursue their ideals of serving the public.—The Harvard Herald.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU BURKIN

Elmer Hoffman, the successful candidate for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State in the April primary, put it rather succinctly: "You don't win elections by subtracting votes, but by adding votes."

Republican Governor Candidate Charles Percy should bear this statement in mind when he starts trying to purge members of the Illinois General Assembly during the State Representative nominating convention in Springfield June 1.

Particular target of Percy and his new allies, State Treasurer William Scott and Cook County Sheriff Richard Ogilvie, is supposed to be the West Side bloc, but there seems to be some question about the membership of this notorious group.

It is probable that Speaker John Lewis received the support of the bloc in his successful bid for the top spot in the House, but it is apparent that whoever won the speakership would do so only with the support of the bloc. The same applies to State Rep. W. J. Murphy in his bid for the Majority Leader position he held during the last session of the legislature.

Does this mean that the two top Republicans in the House are to be purged by Percy and Scott? It is not hard to visualize on uproar in the convention that will be sweet music to the Democrats.

Of course there are GOP representatives who chafed under the Lewis-Murphy leadership and it is a safe bet that they will be honing their knives and following the lead of anyone who might move them into the power positions.

Since the delegate election was tantamount to a primary, it would seem that Percy, Scott, et al, are telling the people of Lake County and Lewis' home town that they cannot be trusted to elect their own representatives.

Such an attitude could well be reflected in these areas with a lack of enthusiasm for Percy come November.

TALLY TAMPERING TALE
TOLD: Now there's a headline possibility guaranteed to make the Democrats not only in Lake County, but throughout the state rub their hands in gloo.

Strange things were apparently happening around the Lake County courthouse between the time the polls closed on Tuesday, April 14, and the completion of the primary vote canvass last Wednesday, and while most of the happenings developed in the Coroner's race there are indications of should we say carelessness, in other races as well.

Because of the circumstances of the hanky-panky with the tally sheets the onus for tampering would appear to fall on Coroner Robert (Mickey) Babcox since he apparently was the intended beneficiary. However, since it is well-known that County Clerk Gar Leaf, who had custody of the tally sheets, and Sheriff Charles Larson, who posted guards around the canvass room, were not exactly sympathetic to Babcox's bid for re-election it is hard to understand how anyone on the Babcox team could get near the election supplies.

Maybe Babcox is right in his contention that the tampering, which was ridiculous effort to discredit him.

Regardless of the why, who, or how of the juggling, it isn't going to make Republican campaigning any easier in the fall.

There will be a lot of ghosts among the dancers at the annual Mental Health Ball at the Waukegan Roller Rink on May 5.

Wayne King, the Waltz King, who memories that name provokes. And the Rink itself with its memories of Glen Miller, Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Orrin Tucker and Wee Bonnie Baker, Ted Weems and a shy youngster named Perry Como who was billed as the "New Bing Crosby."

Youngsters brought up on progressive jazz, be-bop, rock and roll, the Twist and the Mashed Potato, may have trouble adjusting to the music of the waltz master, but for the generation that made the Rink a Sunday night tradition, it should be a memorable journey to the past.

All this and a chance to support a worthy cause, too.

Some Old Cars Never Die

Next time I hear a driver complaining that his car has depreciated in value I have a true story to tell him.

Back in 1898 an outfit named the Winton Horseless Carriage Company made a two passenger car, by hand of course, that sold for $310 against the stiff sales resistance of the times. The first owner kept it until 1907 when he sold it to a dealer, who finally resold it, after much haggling, for $175.

You can imagine the reluctance of the third buyer seven years later when he inquired if the asking price of $40 included a horse! Well, the poor old car really depreciated right clean through the bottom of the market in 1925—27 years after it was made—when its owner had to PAY a junk dealer $15 to haul away what was left of it.

Now we come to the cheerful part. For 13 years it lay in the junkyard gathering dust, until one day an antique car collector bought it for $5. Just to show you what good care and reconditioning can do (as we've always said), this fellow worked on it replacing some parts and repairing others, for about ten years.

In 1949, on its fiftieth birthday, he had an antique auto that was winning prizes in competitions. He turned down $5,000 for it once, but finally sold it in 1953 for around $9,000. That owner has it still.

We haven't any 50-year-old Winton Horseless Carriages (I just ran out and checked) but we have some fine young toddlers of two and three years with a great future ahead of them.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor
Antioch News
Antioch, Ill.

As an old graduate R. N. not practicing my profession any more, doing a lot of baby-sitting and lending a hand now and then, but I hear a lot about what is going on, especially when people meet with an accident and I have been a witness at a few.

At a time when this happens the Rescue Squad is called many times and then wants to know what doctor the patients want and sometimes it happens that the patient is not able to tell them which doctor they prefer and then when taken to the hospital they wake up and do not have their own doctor. I know from past experience a patient does better if their doctor is called. This saves embarrassment to the doctor that has been called first.

I would suggest if a person has a preference, carry it in your wallet or notify the Rescue Squad in advance. I know I have my preference and have taken care of it.

Dear Sir:

Last week you published an article in your paper that there was to be a meeting of a group of people to form an organization for censorship purposes.

That a group of people would set themselves up as authorities of what is right and proper for other people to read or view is indeed presumptuous.

Anyone may feel free to abstain from what he does not like and make his own choices in matters of personal taste and the thought of anyone dictating to another what he may or may not read or see is distasteful. I can only hope this committee of self-appointed do-gooders will not be successful. I for one enjoy my freedoms.

Every month

more and more people are moving up to total electric living

The reason? Simple. Electricity is so easy to live with.

With flameless electric heat, for example, each room can have its own thermostat. You can enjoy 80° in the bath, 72° in the living room and 65° in the bedroom. There's no burning fuel, nothing to make dirt . . . walls and furniture stay clean far longer. Come summer, electric air conditioning wrings heat and humidity from the air along with most of the annoying pollens.

Electric cooking takes the flame out of the kitchen. People stay cooler, and pans, walls and curtains stay cleaner. And, because electric heat is controlled heat, it takes the guesswork out of cooking. Foods cooked in an electric oven have a done-to-a-turn flavor that only radiant heat and insulation on all six sides can provide.

Electrically dried clothes come out sweet and fresh because there's no burning fuel to cause an odor. With no pilot light, power ignition or extra cost for tumbler drive, the average family's drying bill comes to only $1.25 a month.* And an electric dryer costs $20 to $40 less to buy.

See how easy it can be to move up to total electric living at your house. Call us for details, today.

*Based on the actual use of a cross section of Northern Illinois families.

Public Service Company
Commonwealth Edison Company

You stay cool, calm and collected with flameless electricity. Precise, automatically controlled cooking, washing and drying—are at your fingertips.

This little lady—and every member of the family—will delight in the comfort that's hers with room-by-room electric heat control.

What Do Students Do Now?

URBANA, Ill.—Four special programs during the spring and summer have been set up to aid entering freshmen at the Urbana campus of the University of Illinois and their parents.

They are guidance and placement testing, individual pre-college counseling, advance enrollment, and parents program.

Charles Warwick, assistant dean of admissions and records at the University, pointed out the programs are voluntary and all except the parents program are repeated at fall registration for those who do not participate earlier.

The guidance and placement testing has already begun and runs through July 25 on a schedule which is mailed to all students who are accepted at the university. Warwick said the tests in no way determine eligibility for admission to the university.

"They supplement, but do not replace, the testing program required for admission," he said.

Individual pre-college counseling, which also has gotten under way and runs through Sept. 11, is of special value to students who are uncertain of their abilities or their choice of major area of study.

To be of maximum value, pre-college counseling should be scheduled several weeks before advance enrollment.

Warwick said. This gives the student sufficient time to review his academic plans before enrolling in first semester courses.

Counseling is available through student counseling service at the university. Advance enrollment at Urbana begins June 10 and runs through August 7. The program gives entering freshmen an opportunity to choose courses and complete their class schedules during the summer. Before participating the student must have completed the freshman guidance and placement tests, must have submitted his advance deposit of $30 and must have received a permit to enter the university.

By participating in advance enrollment the student is freed of many pressures that are inevitable during fall registration. He also will have assurance of a completed schedule, with an opportunity to do some preliminary planning for his subjects before classes begin.

Parents are invited to accompany students on the day of advance enrollment and participate in a special parents program on campus. Included is a coffee hour, meetings with campus representatives, panel discussions, with university officials and students, a guided tour of campus by bus and visits to departments of particular interest to the individual parents.

Both the parents and students will be given time to make inquiries regarding housing, financial aids, sororities, and fraternities, religious foundations, student activities and other items.

Warwick said further information concerning the programs may be obtained by writing the university. Also, he said, a bulletin describing the programs is sent to all students at the time they are accepted at the university.

How to Mobilize for Boating Education

A scholar once described human history as a race between education and catastrophe.

Latest reports from the Coast Guard confirm that in boating, at least, education is winning the race. There was an 8.2 per cent drop in the number of serious boating accidents last year, reports the Coast Guard. At the same time the number of pleasure craft registered increased 13.9 per cent.

Keeping education solidly in the lead is a problem which commands the attention of those with an abiding interest in boating, a problem complicated by the yearly crop of newcomers to the sport.

According to the Outboard Boating Club of America, national association of the outboard industry and sport, there's no shortage of boating education opportunities in most areas of the nation. What's needed more than any new and elaborate programs is better organization and more promotion of the many boating education activities already going on.

OBC recommends that anyone with an interest in boating education take a good look at the "Illinois Plan"—an arrangement worked out in the Prairie State to make full use of every available resource within the state.

Here's how it works: The Illinois Boating Council, composed of representatives of all major boating organizations in the state, serves as a voluntary advisory group to the state boating division.

The group represented on the Council—including the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, the U. S. Power Squadrons, boating and yacht clubs—can provide anything from a simple 45-minute presentation or film to a 12-week course in the fine points of piloting.

Main tool of the Council is the "one-night-stand," a two-hour presentation conducted by state boating law enforcement officials and representatives of the groups which make up the Council. The officials outline state equipment laws and regulations and the boating education experts give instruction in the basics of boat handling.

The "one-night stand" spearheads stepped-up boating education activities in the various communities around the state where it is presented. People attending the session are told of opportunities available for further free instruction from private organizations. Literature is passed out.

If there are gaps in the area's boating education resources, Council representatives cooperate with local leaders to fill them. Often, later education programs for area schools are planned.

The plan has the virtue of requiring no outlay for new educational materials. Further, it provides the coordination needed to utilize to the utmost the many opportunities for boating education al-

CRITICISM

Criticism often takes from the tree caterpillars and blossoms together.

—Jean Paul Richter The legitimate aim of criticism is to direct attention to the excellent.

—Christian N. Boyce It is a barren kind of criticism which tells you what a thing is not.

Erosion of Independence

"If you put $100 away in a sock in 1939 and left it there, that $100 has shrunk to $44.00." Thus reports the Portland, Oregon, Journal, using U. S. Labor Department figures as its authority. And this massive erosion of the dollar's purchasing power has been the cause of grave hardships to great numbers of people—especially the elderly living on fixed incomes who have not shared in the increased wages and other income.

Beyond that, the Journal makes this vital point: "... the shrinking dollar also tends to cause an even more serious erosion of personal independence. It is a real discouragement of savings for independence, and as a result of the shrinking dollar and the deficit spending attitude of the government more and more people are looking to Washington for their old age and even for the 'rainy day.' Erosion of personal independence can only result in a nation growing weaker, not stronger."

The cheapened dollar has been a major cause of the extension of the Welfare State, with all the destruction of individual responsibility and independence that implies. And, despite the Administration's avowed optimism, continued deficit spending threatens what is left of the dollar's value. There are plenty of danger signals on the horizon.

Ray Toft made a motion that parallel parking be instituted on the east side of Broadway for 275 feet on the south end of the street (at Broadway and Lake). The motion was approved.

An ordinance was read and approved designating stop streets in the village, and fixing penalties for disregarding stop signs at such streets. A stop sign on Orchard at Broadway, for traffic going east, was added to the list.

Board members were reminded that village board meetings will be held twice a month, on the first and third Tuesday of the month, starting at 8 p.m. (DST) as of May 1.

Most members of the cast will be the same actors who took the roles last summer. Bob Andersen will play Brad, Allan Moorman will be Sol, Joan Tanner as Gloria, Dee D'Isa is Opal, and Stan Sutherland the Doctor.

"Everybody Loves Opal" will be shown one week-end only.

Drive For Placement Of Older Worker To Start May 3

Would you, if you were an employer, consider hiring an applicant who has a good work record, a fine education, and excellent experience in the job you were trying to fill? The answer is "No," if you were one of the many employers who refuse to interview women over 35 and men over 40.

Trying to get employers to consider applicants on the basis of ability rather than age is the purpose behind the older worker drive to be initiated the week of May 3-9; the drive will continue through the month of May, designated as Senior Citizens Month. All employers are being asked to cooperate in removing unrealistic age barriers from their company's personnel policies and to promote hiring practices which will be a credit to the company, the community, and the country.

Job seekers over 40 represent over one-third of the available labor supply and over one-half the reservoir of developed skills, according to Walter E. Parker, Superintendent, Illinois State Employment Service. Older workers have better attendance and safety records, less turnover, are above average in stability, reliability, responsibility, loyalty, and, often, productivity. Yet employers are reluctant to put them on the company payroll.

One of the few reasons which has a certain degree of validity in discriminating against the older worker relates to pension and insurance plans. On this subject, the National Association of Manufacturers has stated: "In any consideration of possible increased costs, while it may be desirable to have a low insurance and pension rate, it is insignificant when one compares it with the costs involved in turnover, poor or indifferent performance, absenteeism, lack of job interest and application, and the fact that the company is cutting itself off from the services of able, mature employees."

Under most pension plans, the costs of hiring older workers are far from prohibitive, Mr. Parker said. There are many variations in the provisions of such plans and a high degree of flexibility from plan to plan. Another factor to be considered is that the spread and accrual of vested rights under private pension plans will gradually enable more older workers to enter new employment without forfeiting previously acquired pension credits.

Also, social security covers at least 90% of workers today, and, with average benefits increasing, a lowering of pension rights would be acceptable to many older workers whose greatest desire is to be given an opportunity to work.

As for workmen's compensation and group insurance, age has no noticeable influence on workmen's compensation costs; costs are usually determined by the accident experience of the firm, and scientific studies have shown that accident frequency declines with age.

Premiums for group coverage for employees and their dependents against sickness and accident are, in general, independent of the ages of the employees. Any increase in costs incurred by older workers' slower recovery from illnesses or accidents is largely offset by the higher costs of dependent benefits for younger workers, who generally have more dependents. Another offsetting factor is the decline in costs for maternity benefits if such are part of the fringe package. Group life insurance costs may also present a not increase so small as to be negligible.

Care of her hair is always at the top of a woman's list of things to do, and when she has a date with a hairdresser, all other obligations are dismissed as unimportant.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

NOW, HERE'S A BABY—

By C. Robert Gruver
Editor
All About Babies

A famous obstetrician is endeared in the hearts of hundreds of mothers, not so much because of his professional skill but because of these four little words spoken as he handed a newborn baby to his mother: "Now, here's a baby."

These four little words commit the doctor to no opinion of baby's physical attributes. Yet, they are enough to conjure up in every mother's mind a very special meaning all their own. For to every mother's eyes, her baby is the most beautiful baby in all the world.

As far as actual looks go, there's little about a newborn baby to qualify him for a beauty contest. His head is big, being about one-fourth of his entire length. It may be lopsided too and is often covered with long black hair. He has no chin to speak of and his skin usually is wrinkled and red. His arms and legs are skinny and short and his little legs are bowed from ankle to knee. His buttocks are small and his shoulders narrow.

Yet, to mother he is beautiful. For only a mother knows the struggle he went through to come into the world. Only she knows the jolt he felt when his peaceful slumber within her was suddenly and violently disturbed by a series of muscular contractions that started him on his way. Only she knows how his little body stiffened and how his small back arched as he was pushed through the birth canal.

Little wonder that the newborn baby appears disturbed and so mad at the world that he could yell and does. But greater wonder is the skill with which nature engineered his little body to prepare it for birth. For example, the skull is made up of separate sections which do not meet. Thus, during birth, they can be pressed together, even overlap to ease its passage through the birth canal. It is for the same reason that the buttocks are small and the shoulders narrow.

In time the head resumes its normal shape. The sections of skull fuse and the easily visible soft spot, where they didn't meet, closes. The skin becomes smooth and pink and the little arms and legs that were flexed and bent by baby's prenatal position straighten. Soon everyone notices that baby really is beautiful but never as beautiful as during the moment when mother looked on baby with love for the first time.

NEW REFRIGERATORS NOW "ON WHEELS" FOR EASY CLEANING

How long since you've swept or waxed the floor under your refrigerator? If you're like most of us, probably not since something was dropped behind the appliance, and a good, strong husband was drafted to haul it out from the wall.

But things are different now. The newest refrigerators are on wheels, so the homemaker can roll her refrigerator out by herself. This makes it easy to keep the area under and around the refrigerator as clean as the rest of your kitchen.

Hotpoint home economists point out that besides the advantages of easy cleaning, the new mobility means you have more freedom in decorating time when you wish to paint or paper the wall behind the refrigerator.

Barnyard Fertilizer, They're Spreading It Again

By Chicago Better Business Bureau

Every spring, despite repeated warnings, scores of complaints are received against fertilizer gyps, humus and peat moss peddlers. They work residential neighborhoods peddling their "goop" from trucks, according to the Better Business Bureau. The following letter from one such complainant is typical and is offered as a timely warning to home owners not to be tricked on this racket.

"Wednesday, April 15, three men in a truck working both sides of the street, selling fertilizer, approached my husband who was sitting on the front porch. One of the men came up and started to talk to him about fertilizer, he told him he wasn't interested.

"Then one of the other men came over and said we had a lot of crab grass in our lawn, and they could put this stuff on there and it would kill all the crab grass and give us a perfect lawn. "My husband asked them what it would cost, he did not get an answer, then the three men started to spread the stuff on the lawn. He asked them again what it would cost and then one of the men said not much.

"At that time I came home from downtown and I went right in the house as the phone was ringing. A few minutes later one of the men walked in and so did my husband. This man asked for a pencil and proceeded to do some figuring, he then said that will be $128.00.

"I asked him what for, and he said he had spread 30 or more baskets of fertilizer on the lawn. I told him that was ridiculous, that there was no 30 baskets and furthermore he was not told to do it.

"My husband is old, not well and has high blood pressure and a hard time breathing. He got so worked up I thought he was going to drop. This man demanded

BRAD DUBAS, JOHN SEBESTA and Bob Redke, ballots in hand, step into the voting booths to choose their candidates for village officials for Student Government Day.

$100 then and I still said no, my husband is on pension, where do you think our money comes from?

"He then got very mad and started yelling, which upset my husband and me. He then said I will settle for $80. My husband said for me to write him out a check, which I did against my better judgment. He handed me a receipt with a different signature than the name given me. This truck was light blue with white lettering. In all the excitement we did not get the license number.

"We called the police Friday. They came over and made out a report and said that it was nothing but horse manure and only a few baskets full."

The Better Business Bureau warns—Don't Let These Peddlers in Your Yard and Phone for the Police.

Cadet Sgt. ED. JAHNCKE, JR., Omega Military School, was given the honor of being made "Commander of the Color Guard" for the next year. He will be in the position of leading the parades. This promotion was recommended by Major Paul Ridgeway, OMS Commandant. Cadet Ed has also won six additional bars to add to his sharpshooting medals. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Jahncke, Beach Grove.

Beef Output Still Rising

The tide of beef production is still rising, but the period of most rapid rise may be past. This view seems to be supported by the quarterly report of cattle on feed recently released by the USDA. Although there were only slightly more total cattle on feed April 1 than one year before, the figures indicate that market supplies could be 6 to 9 per cent over 1963 levels for the next three or four months.

The report shows figures for 32 states, but comparable figures for only 28 states for the year before. These 28 states had 8,265,000 cattle on feed April 1, only 1 per cent more than the year earlier. But the farmers said they intended to market 6 per cent more cattle from April to June than in the same time last year. Actual marketings could exceed 1963 levels by more than 6 per cent, judging from the number of heavy and medium-weight cattle on hand. All of the increase in cattle on feed was in cattle weighing over 700 pounds. The number of lighter cattle was considerably smaller.

Steers weighing over 1,100 pounds totaled 538,000, 18% more than a year earlier. There were no heifers weighing over 1,100 pounds on feed. Steers weighing 900 to 1,100 pounds totaled 1,645,000, up 4%. There were also 259,000 heifers in this weight range, 30% more than last year. The 1,004,000 steers and heifers in this weight range were 7% more than in 1963.

Steers weighing 700 to 900 pounds on April 1 numbered 1,850,000, up 13% from the year before. Heifers of the same weights totaled 618,000, down not quite 1%. The 2,468,000 steers and heifers together were 9% less than in 1963.

There are more cattle suitable for feeding this year than in 1963. On January 1, farmers and ranchers had an estimated 45,243,000 steers and steer calves, and heifers and heifer calves not being kept for milk. This number was 11% more than two years before, but only 4% more than last year. In 1963, however, they held back enough heifers to swell the beef cow herd by 1,809,000 head. The addition to cow herds could be much smaller this year, allowing more heifers for feeding out.

Which Foods To Wash Before Refrigerating

To wash or not to wash foods before putting them in the refrigerator is a frequent homemaking question. Knowing the right answer for the right item will help you keep food at top quality during its stay in the fresh food compartment.

Citrus fruits should be washed before storing. Rinse and drain oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes thoroughly. Home economists also advise cold water rinse for other fruits such as apples, peaches and pears. Poultry also should be washed before refrigerating. Chicken, turkey and duckling should be cleaned for cooking, then drained and loosely-wrapped. If you plan to keep it longer than a day or two before cooking, wrap the poultry in a moisture-proof covering and place it in the freezer compartment.

Eggs, however, should not go near the water before being put in the refrigerator. Also on the "don't wash" list are berries. They should be spread out in a shallow container and stored in the fresh food compartment.

Further suggestions from home economists for most effective use of your refrigerator are these: Be sure that food containers are clean. In addition, always air re-usable containers which have held "strong" foods such as onions and certain cheeses before using again. This is important to avoid the transfer of odors inside the refrigerator.

To save space in your crisper compartment, remove all unusable portions of vegetables before storing. There's no point in storing celery and radish leaves if you're only going to cut them off and throw them away later.

Make certain the brake lights on your car are in good working order. Advises the Chicago Motor Club. This is the best way you have of warning motorists behind you when you are stopping or slowing down. If you find your brake lights are not working, use hand signals until you can have them repaired.

Physician—I advise you take a hot bath before retiring.

Patient—Before retiring? But I won't be retiring for another ten years!

News of Lakesports

First Drag Races This Week-End

The first two day meet of the season will be held this coming Saturday and Sunday, May 2 and 3 at the Great Lakes Dragway, Union Grove, Wisconsin.

Highlighting the week-end's events will be a best 3 out of 5 match race each day between the nation's fastest Dodge and the fastest Plymouth. Pat Minc of Chicago will be driving John Farconas' record holding Dodge, "Hustler," while the other Chrysler Corporation entry will be driven by Al Eckstrand of Detroit. Eckstrand, who is a lawyer calls his car "The Lawman."

These are both factory set-up cars built specifically for drag racing. They have aluminum bodies and the new high performance engines, and with the new factory equipment have made the stock car a potent drag racing machine. The speeds range upwards of 120 mph and are in the 11 second bracket for the 1/4 mile.

Saturday will be an all stock car event with many other factory set-stock cars competing.

Sunday's racing will be open to all competition with the second 3 out of 5 match race the highlight of the day.

Saturday's time trials start at 4 p.m. with races at 8 p.m. Sunday's time trials begin at 9 a.m., racing at 2 p.m. The dragstrip is located just 20 miles south of Milwaukee or 12 miles north of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line at Union Grove, Wisconsin.

Breaks Pole Vault Record

Bruce Dunek of Salem won the high hurdles, Lyle Foulke the broad jump, and Don Farm the mile. Cal Crumbliss, also of Salem, had a big lead in the final yards of the 180 yard low hurdles but tripped over the last hurdle, somersaulted and tied for first.

Falcon Nine Still Winless

By John Hansen

The Mets aren't the only team that's having trouble this year, the Salem Central Baseball team is still without a win. Losses to Union Lakes Dragway, Union Grove and Lake Geneva ran the Falcons' record to 0-7.

Salem outthrew Grove 7-3 but an error and three walks in the fourth inning gave the Broncos 4 gift runs to wipe out a 2-1 Salem lead. Salem got 2 runs in the sixth but fell one short and lost 5-4. Pitcher Greg Klemko who took the loss hit a triple.

Against Lake Geneva the Falcons failed to come back after falling behind 10-0. The Badgers scored 7 runs in the third to insure the win. A Falcon rally once again fell short, they scored 6 runs in the late innings but no more.

Unearned Runs Lose Game For Sequoits

The Round Lake Panthers of the Northwest Suburban Conference stretched their unbeaten mark to 7 games Saturday when they took a double header from the Antioch Sequoits.

"Unearned runs made the difference," Coach Bruce Stahmer said. "In the first game they had 9 unearned runs compared to two for us," he added.

The Sequoits dropped the first game 13 to 9 as the Panthers blasted out 4 runs in the final inning to take the victory. In the second game Round Lake scored 6 runs in the first inning, two in the second and then were blanked for the remainder of the contest. The 8 runs were enough, however, as the Sequoits tallied 4 times to take the loss 8 to 4.

Jim Wojczynski took credit for the loss in the first game, giving up 13 runs on 15 hits. Dick Davis was the top hitter for the Sequoits with 2 for 4. Wojczynski got a home run.

Hob Lenczewski gave up 10 hits and allowed 8 runs in the first two innings before he settled down and pitched shutout ball for the next five innings. Jim Wojczynski hit a double for the only extra base hit for the Sequoits.

Inside Antioch High

By Marilyn Gras

The ACIS track team came in fourth in the class B competition of the Palatine Relays last Saturday. Wauconda's Bulldogs finished first and Chicago St. Ignatius came in second. Antioch's best finishes came in the 100 by Tom Morgan and by the low and high hurdle relay and mile relay teams.

Last week nineteen ACIS chemistry students and Mr. Miller, a chemistry teacher, attended a special program at Abbott Laboratories. They left rather early in the morning and returned around 3:00 p.m. The program included a general meeting and tours of the laboratory buildings.

School will recess early tomorrow (Friday), for Eighth Grade Day. Eighth graders and their parents will be at the high school for lunch, a program in the gym and then tours of the school building.

Junior Jim Edwards was the only student to make straight "A's" for the fifth six weeks grading period. Seniors are eagerly counting the number of school days left in the term. After this week they will attend classes only fifteen more times. Graduation this year will be on June 2, a Tuesday evening.

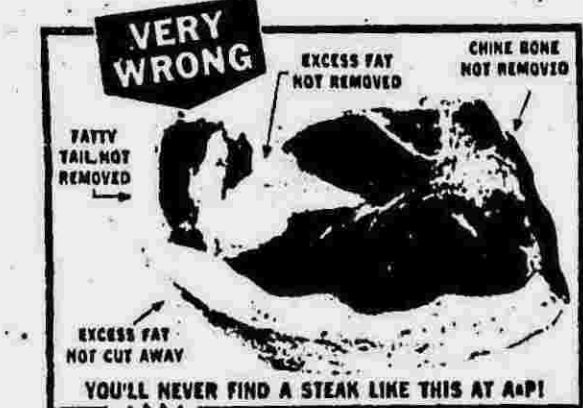

After the '62 earthquake in Iran, CARE issued food as wages for victims working on reconstruction. In one village alone, 4 irrigation channels rebuilt by men "paid" in CARE food will be worth $13,000 in crops this year; $52,000 in crops each year thereafter. CARE, 1 S. ## VA Has Homes To Sell, Rent

The Veterans Administration in Illinois is a big landlord and keeps trying not to be.

John B. Naser, VA's Regional Manager, says the Regional Office in Chicago has 2,077 homes in the state for sale at favorable terms and low down payments. There are no closing costs and often the monthly payments are less than rent.

You don't even have to be a veteran to buy one.

VA has already sold 3,650 homes. It is renting 420 others. VA doesn't like the rental business either and will consider renting only in certain areas where unusual conditions prevail.

A thousand of the properties for sale are located in the six counties comprising Metropolitan Chicago. In the Rockford area there are 80 houses. Downstate, around East St. Louis, there are 275 others. Danville and Decatur have about 25 each and Peoria around 20. The remainder are scattered around the state and many are highly desirable purchases.

The homes are properties VA has repossessed after mortgage foreclosures by private lenders. Divorces, death and job displacements are mostly responsible, Mr. Naser explained. Even at that, VA's record of defaults is less than 2 per cent.

VA cannot deal with purchases direct, the manager said. Anyone interested should consult VA approved real estate brokers. Direct inquiries can be made, if necessary, to the VA Regional Office, 2030 West Taylor Street, Chicago, but sales must be completed through brokers.

If you make out your income tax correctly, you go to the poorhouse; if you don't you go to jail.

SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

AVOID 'TV EYESORE'

Poor television viewing habits or a set that is functioning improperly will jeopardize the health of your eyes.

Flickering pictures and fuzzy images are sure to cause headaches and "TV eyesore." For the sake of your eyesight, heed the following warnings:

1. Do not shut off the lights in your television room. Shifting your eyes from the bright picture to total darkness overworks the eye-pupil muscles and makes them weary.

2. Do not wear dark glasses. This provides too great a contrast from screen to room and puts added stress on your eyes.

3. Do not sit too close to the screen. Sitting too close to the set blows up all the imperfections of the picture and can result in eye strain.

It is best to sit about 10 feet or more away from the set in a room with a soft, shaded light behind you. It is permissible to use a filter in front of the screen if you want to soften picture glare.

The size of your set depends upon the size of your room. A distance of roughly 10 times the diameter of the screen will be most comfortable for easy viewing and avoiding eyestrain.

A ten-inch screen should be viewed from a distance of 8 feet, a 10-inch screen from 14 feet, and a 24-inch screen from at least 20 feet.

In general, it is good to develop the habit of resting your eyes by glancing away from the set for short intervals. Changing from one chair to another occasionally is helpful because it will rest the neck muscles, as well as the eyes.

If your eyes still become easily fatigued, you should consult your ophthalmologist.

RESPECT FOR POLICE

"I am appalled at the utter contempt so many people have for policemen in all levels of government."

"I think it is because many of us have a little larceny in our minds. Many times we would like to break the law, and do break traffic laws constantly."

"The fact is the long arm of the law and order keeps the greater majority of people in line."

"But during the Boston police strike of 1914, it is a recorded fact that even respected citizens of that city smashed windows and took what they wanted on display, all because they knew they would not be arrested. Which proves police are a highly essential corps, and should be respected as such."—Minonk News-Dispatch.

When walking, even in broad daylight, women seem more concerned about who is behind than who is ahead of them.

Salvation Army Sets Tag Day

The Salvation Army has received official permission to hold its annual area-wide tag day, "Doughnut Day," in Antioch on Friday, June 12. Antioch will be among the 150 suburban communities in Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake, McHenry and Will counties that will observe "Doughnut Day" simultaneously with Chicago.

On "Doughnut Day," volunteer taggers will sell the little brown doughnut-shaped tags that have become familiar symbols of The Salvation Army's help for the needy. The tag day will mark the concluding appeal in the Army's 1964 Operating Fund Campaign to be held from May 25 to June 19. The total campaign goal is $310,000.

In Antioch, as in other communities where Salvation Army Service Units are organized, 20 percent of the funds raised in the local "Doughnut Day" drive will remain in the communities. These funds will be used to meet local emergencies, and to finance unduplicated programs of welfare service or health care. Each Service

CIGARETTE TAX

"If the State of Illinois wants to slap on an extra nickel a pack tax on cigarettes, and if they will use it for additional equalization aid to schools, so property taxes can be lower, they won't get much opposition around here. Even the three-pack a day folk in this office approve the idea."—The Worth Palos Reporter.

Unit, comprised of representative residents acting on behalf of the Salvation Army, decides how the funds will be used to assist needy individuals or families in the community.

The other 80 percent of the "Doughnut Day" contributions will help support the social welfare services maintained by the Salvation Army for the unfortunate in the Greater Chicago area.

Ford Mustang Sets Showroom Record

L. A. Ryan and W. P. Lyons, Lyons & Ryan Ford Sales, 939 Main St., Antioch, today reported the new Ford Mustang is setting records for showroom visitors and purchase orders.

"Since its introduction April 17, the Mustang, newest of Ford's 'Big Change' cars, has drawn much greater public enthusiasm than the previous high marks during the debut of the 1955 Thunderbird and the 1960 Falcon," the dealers said.

The Mustang, a four-passenger sports-type car which is offered in hardtop and convertible models, features a long list of optional equipment. Introduction of the new car increases the number of Ford Division models to five. Other lines are Falcon, Fairlane, Galaxie, and Thunderbird.

D. O. Wiggins, Chicago district sales manager of Ford Division, said more than 68,000 Chicagoans visited the dealerships in the district during the first two days of introduction.

"During that two-day period, Chicago dealers wrote an unprecedented 778 Mustang orders," Mr. Wiggins said. "After looking at the Mustang, many showroom visitors commented that they were aware of our 'Big Change' advertising and sales promotion program and the Mustang was visible proof of the change."

for all nursing personnel who are responsible for supervising the nursing care given to patients in nursing homes. A selection of suitable techniques were discussed and a variety of ongoing nursing inservice programs were presented.

A panel of experts were on hand to offer assistance with individual needs and plans. Mrs. Josephine Schabowicz, R.N., Institutional Nursing Consultant of the Lake County Health Department planned the program and acted as panel moderator.

Beautiful

Ford's
the only car
that's changed as much as Chicago!

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Field, LeGrange Park—"What interests us are the many options you can get for a Mustang. You can outfit it just about any way you want. We like the European look of the car. And where else can you find a low price like this?"

Mrs. Melyne Mann, Wilmette—"I go for this one. It's beautiful—nice styling and rich interior. I'll tell you something else, too. The Mustang would be a delightful first car or second car."

Norm Spaulding, Well-Known Radio Personality, Station WAAF—"I'm going to buy a Mustang. It's a clean, modern car. Mustang looks like it has power to go—and it does. Also, I need a true 4-door because I have two boys. I'm sold on this car."

Mrs. John Patterson, LeGrange Park—"Most sporty cars don't have enough room. This Mustang does. It's easy to get in and out of. The styling is just beautiful. And—very important—the price is just right."

NEW FORD MUSTANG

See it today at your Chicagoland Ford Dealer's. Look it over closely—only the great European road cars have Mustang's style, fire and flavor.

Look at Mustang's price tag. You'll find it hard to believe a car that looks as good as this could cost so little (Mustang is less expensive than many conventional American cars). Yet that low price delivers a fully equipped 4-passenger Mustang, complete with a spacious trunk and luxury features that are usually extra-cost options on most other cars, such as deep foam bucket seats, wall-to-wall carpeting, sports steering wheel, full wheel covers and many others.

Look how practical it is. The Mustang was designed to be designed by you. There are convenience options, such as power steering, power brakes, Cruise-O-Matic transmission and push-button radio. There are luxury options to satisfy your taste for elegance, such as air conditioning, between-the-seats console, a vinyl roof covering for the hardtop and a power-operated top for the convertible. And if you are performance-minded, you can choose a 289 cu. in. V-8, 4-speed manual transmission and Rally Pac (tachometer and clock).

Stop by at your Ford Dealer's soon and see the Mustang Hardtop, the Hardtop with vinyl-covered roof, and the Convertible.
